International students and scholars with questions about their immigration and visa status are advised to seek the assistance of an immigration attorney. This document is a resource to explain certain aspects of the law, but is not a replacement for legal advice.

I’ve been a victim of assault, does my immigration status affect my ability to access on-campus resources?
No. Under the law, students and staff who are victims or survivors of sexual and interpersonal violence receive the same rights as students and staff who are not victims or survivors of sexual and interpersonal violence. STCC will not retaliate against you or treat you differently on the basis of reporting a crime.

Information about on-campus medical and counseling resources, as well as available accommodations, may be found at:
https://www.stcc.edu/about-stcc/employment/affirmative-action--title-ix/

Information about your state’s criminal definitions of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking may be found in the Annual Security Report: https://www.stcc.edu/media/departments/polices2/lparking/CleryReport.pdf

Specific questions about filing charges may be addressed to:

What is an immigration lawyer and what do they do?

Immigration lawyers are licensed attorneys who specialize in the field of immigration law. They function as the client’s advocate, and can represent them before immigration agencies, both in immigration court as well as in filing applications for immigration benefits. The lawyer can give general advice and can discuss immigration options. Like all lawyers, immigration lawyers are bound by professional ethical and legal requirements, and keep client discussions confidential.

Where can I find a local immigration attorney?

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), a bureau of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), offers two sites to help individuals find free or low-cost legal representation:

- USCIS: Find Help in your Community Webpage
- USCIS: Find Legal Services Webpage

The Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) provides a listing of attorneys by state who provide immigration services either for free or for little cost.

The American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA) offers an online Immigration Lawyer Referral Service that can help a student or scholar find an immigration lawyer.

The American Bar Association also provides information on finding legal services.
